BONNIE S. MARTIN
McCREADY FOUNDATION
ADMISSIONS SPECIALIST

Doors open, doors close. That's how Bonnie Martin, the Tawes Nursing & Rehabilitation Center's new admissions specialist, describes her life.

Many of Bonnie's "doors" have revolved around McCready. She was born here, worked as a pharmacy and storeroom assistant in the late '70s, helped move patients from the original hospital to the new one in 1980, and spent hours visiting with her grandmother in the nursing home.

Bonnie felt called "to work with people." She earned several degrees in ministry, and did mission work in the Philippines, Haiti and Mexico. State side, she interned at MAC, worked as a social services assistant and in nursing home-care management.

Now she's back at McCready and still opening doors -- for elderly people and their families. When it's time for someone to move from a hospital to rehabilitation care or skilled nursing, she eases the way. She meets prospective residents, their families, their nurses and doctors and their patient care coordinators BEFORE they settle in at Tawes. Using her network of elder-care contacts, she guides each family through care planning, financial concerns and the intricacies of Medicare and Medicaid.

When not at Tawes, she's active in her church and in choir. She sometimes stands in for other ministers. She enjoys riding motorcycles with her husband, Paul, or daughter, Sarah, when she's not playing with their "very spoiled Chihuahua, Chi-Chi."
